Our first Silver PBL Award recipients!

P&C Dinner in White

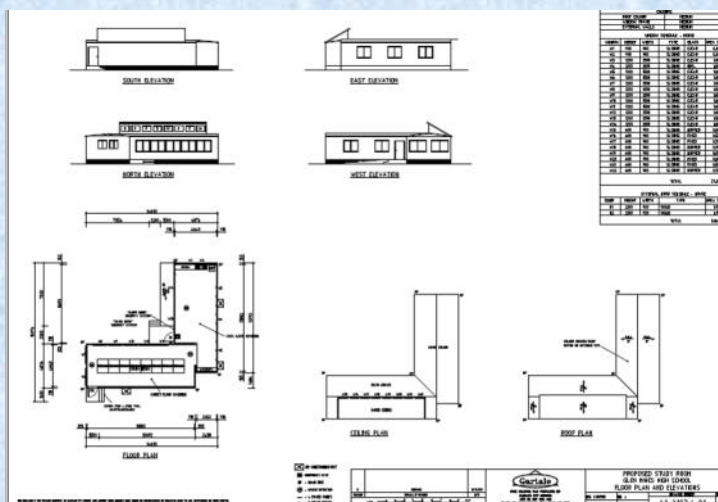

I had the pleasure of attending our P&C Committee's inaugural 'Dinner in White' on Saturday 3 November 2018. The day started with a text from 'Mr & Mrs White' asking attendees to meet in the carpark at the rear of the Visitor Information Centre. Once all assembled, we were directed to the Town Hall to enjoy catering and entertainment from GIHS students. Upon dark, we were transported by bus to the secret venue: a fairy light marquee set up in the middle of the Standing Stones in Glen Innes' Centennial Park! A sensational evening and everyone involved should be congratulated for an innovative and interesting night.

Dance Spectacular 2018

Another outstanding presentation by our students at Dance Spectacular 2018. All involved should be congratulated on their involvement in such a high energy, non-stop performance. Wow!

Junior Yearly Exams

Junior Yearly Exams commence in Week 5. Some classes have chosen to do exams in individual subjects classes rather than as a whole cohort exam.

HSC Students

This week is the final week of exams for our HSC students. The week will end with their school formal on Saturday night at the RSL. We wish them well in the workforce or with their further education.

Dance Spectacular 2018

The Glen Innes High School Dance Spectacular was held on Wednesday 31 October and 1 November at The Chapel Theatre. Presented by the GIHS Dance Team with support from the Glen Innes Arts Council, the aim was to raise funds for the team's costumes and to showcase their work to the community and local schools.

The group performed many dance styles including Lyrical and Broadway Jazz, Contemporary, Bollywood, Musical Theatre, Modern Expressive, JFH and Hip Hop dance.

The team performed several of these pieces at the Regional Dance Festival in Tamworth earlier in the year.

Local dance studios Star Avenue Dance Centre and In2Dance with Amelia, along with indigenous dancer Bob Blair performed as guest artists. This year, Glen Innes High School's talented singers and musicians also performed as part of the show.

The cast of the show included around 100 students from Glen Innes High School, Glen Innes Public, St Joseph's Primary School, and Red Range Public School and Glen Innes West Infants School.

Thank you to dance teacher Lindy Alt, dance parents for their assistance with costumes/food/backstage, the lighting and sound team, and the Glen Innes community for their continued support.

Ambulance Cover Scheme

In the event that a NSW school student is provided with emergency ambulance services within NSW, an invoice will be generated in the name of the person to whom these services have been provided. On receipt of the invoice the parent/guardian should:

- If the parent/guardian has private health insurance, a health care card, pensioner concession card or a Commonwealth Health Seniors Card then these details should be recorded in the relevant section on the back of the invoice, and returned to NSW Ambulance.
- If the parent/guardian has no other form of ambulance insurance they should forward the invoice to the student's school. The school will provide official certification that the services are covered, and forward it to NSW Ambulance.

GIHS P&C Dinner in White

Last Saturday morning, the Dinner in White guests received their text message with the details to meet at the Tourist Information Centre car park. At 6:30pm an excited group, dressed in white and carrying tables, baskets of food and drinks, table decorations and everything in between, walked down to the Town Hall. Guests were served complimentary drinks and a range of delicious appetisers that were prepared by the Year 9 & 10 Food Technology classes with the assistance of Mrs Muggleton, Mrs Gillett and Mrs Woods. During this time at the holding place, upbeat entertainment was provided by Mr McKean and his talented Year 10 & 11 music students. It was a wonderful start to the evening where community members were hosted by GIHS students Jessica & Isabel Wright, Naomi Eastwood, Abigail Lightfoot, Charlotte McHarg, Grace Cupitt, Eleanor Malone, Mitchell and Maddie Taylor.

With the arrival of Daniel Arandale from New England Coaches, guests were waiting in anticipation to see where they were off to next and I believe there was plenty of banter on the bus along the way. By the time the bus turned into the Standing Stones, guests were certain of their destination however what they were about to experience next was simply breathtaking. Geoff and Cassandra Hill from Mr & Mrs Hill Lighting had created the most amazing display of lights that formed a spectacular setting and atmosphere within the Standing Stones. Guests were simply amazed as they made their way through the entrance to the dining area and set about arranging their tables.

Thank you to Wayne Williams from Wayne Williams Electrical who oversaw all things structural and electrical at the site and spent many hours along with Greg Wright and Craig Thomas assisting Geoff Hill with the setting up of the lights.

Once the guests had settled in, they were welcomed to the Dinner in White and asked to take out their white napkins where in true Dinner en Blanc style they waved them around in the air as a united gesture of celebration. Guests were then left to enjoy their meals and wow, what a range of meals that were prepared – mezze platters, roast dinners, lasagnes, salads and decadent desserts. Some guests choose the hampers from the New England Motor Lodge and were delighted with their choice. At 9:00pm to signify the opening of the dance floor, guests lit sparklers and were introduced to the Jimmy Craz band from Tamworth. The trio of guys in the band (one an ex Glen Innes resident) played a fantastic range of songs and guests danced the night away. Thank you to Apartments on the Park who provided accommodation for the band overnight. At the strike of midnight, guests packed up their things and with a sense of satisfaction from such a great evening were bussed back to the Tourist Information Centre carpark.

I would personally like to thank the GIHS P&C Dinner in White committee of Joanne Wright, Annette Eastwood, Amy Cupitt, LEEANNE McHarg, Dannielle Lightfoot and Kim Butterworth who planned and orchestrated for several months with a vision of a magical night with friends and community under the stars. The money raised from the White Dinner will be used to help fund the construction of an academic achievement centre for senior students at the school and after four years of planning and paperwork with the Department of Education, we are excited to announce that the tender process for our project started this week.

Mixed League Tag Gala Day

An eight-a-side mixed league tag gala day was held in Inverell on 1 November 2018. Glen Innes High School had a strong representation at the day with 25 students travelling over via bus to participate in the friendly fun gala day. These 25 students were split into two teams, with mixed genders.

The teams played between 6-8 games each on the day, with very little down time. Both teams enjoyed success on the day defeating teams from Bingara, Inverell and Ashford. Glen White won six of their eight games, and Glen Red completed the day undefeated. The day was filled with success and fun.

The day was enjoyed by all and our students benefited from the focus of participation, inclusion and learning. All students must be congratulated on their behaviour and application on the day. They represented the school and themselves exceptionally well.
